178 CUSTIS (Nellie), adopted daughter of Washington, a. l. s. 1821. 4 pages 4to.

This was Mrs. Washington's grand-niece, her own daughter Nellie died unmarried at twenty-two. This Nellie married Mr. Law of Balto., he (L.) obtained a divorce in Vermont. Having deserted his wife, leaving her at his father's, Druid Hill, (from where this letter is written,) now Druid Hill Park. In her letter she has taken her own name, and writes to Gen'l Harper in her distress a touching and beautiful letter, (never before exposed,) to be a friend and brother. Will quote small portion.—"The friendship formed in our youthful days, when sheltered by the roof of Washington, &c. Let not one dishonorable word be uttered against the best loved daughter of Washington, examine the petition and let not reproach fall upon your friend, to you I confide this sacred charge, (pleading to obtain her child.") Wish space would permit giving the letter in full. To a collector of Washington's I consider this the most valuable adjunct that has been offered in years. Also interesting historical scrap material.

392 HAHNEMANN [Samuel], Founder of Homeopathy, a. l. s. 2 pages 8vo, 1835. Honeymoon letters to his young wife, to whom he was just married at the age of 80.

He evidently intended writing a number of souvenir letters, 9 sheets of fine plain paper are sewed together, on the cover appears in French, per Samuel Hahnemann. "A souvenir of love for my very dear wife, Melanie d'Hervilly."

On the third page he writes in German. Dear Guardian Angel, &c., &c. Samuel Hahnemann. Another, to my matchless wife, Marie Malanie Hahnemann, d'Hervilly: As you my beloved Melanie, desire to learn the German letter writing, (and which is very agreeable to me too,) make use of this brief introduction. True love is joyful admiration, and sincere worship of those beautiful moral and physical qualities beheld by us in the beloved object which we possess, or a least wish to possess, and in whom, seeing, as in a mirror, those Heavenly qualities, we feel ourselves irresistibly attracted to the beloved object. Life without love is like the day with the sun. "For this reason I can never leave you, as you are inseparably grown to my heart." "Separated only for a short time from you, my heart would waste itself away." Fine portrait and sketch of his life, with translations into English of the letters. A celebrated Homeopathic physician of Phila., (now dead,) some years ago offered the owner of these letters, $200 for them. Comments on my part as to rarity, value, &c., is unnecessary.

PRESIDENTS OF THE UNITED STATES.

720 WASHINGTON (GEORGE), a. l. s. Mount Vernon, 1785. 1¼ pages 4to. A very fine letter to Gov. Paca of Md., in regard to an Act passed by the Virginia Assembly, respecting the further navigation of the Potomack River. A copy of the Act, the same one sent with the letter by Washington. 4 Portraits.

As the Act could not be printed at Richmond in time for the use of the Managers, and was brought to Alexandria for that purpose. I do myself the honor of inclosing one of the copies R'd were struck at the above place, &c., &c.

721 WASHINGTON (George), a. l. s. Phila. 1794. 1½ pages 4to. to David Steuart, Esq. of Phila. (I think) in regard to appointing successors to Steuart and others who resigned. Like the preceding very interesting and beautifully preserved.

As you appear to have taken a final determination, I can say nothing more on the subject of its disclosure than that it would have been pleasing to me if it had been convenient to yourselves, that those who began sh'd have completed the work; and not to have left the harvest of your labors to be reaped by others. As you are better acquainted than I am with characters in the vicinity of the Federal City, &c., &c. Wishing as I do to make a good choice of successors, every aid I can derive towards the accomplishment of it would be gratefully received.

P. S.—Quoting parts of interesting letters, may be tiresome and uninteresting to beginners, but I am sure will be appreciated by the advanced collector.

932 VOLTAIRE. The last lines he wrote, not signed. No doubt about the authenticity of it. Also three leaves from a crown of laurel, placed upon his head by the joyous Parisians, upon his arrival in the City, in a public theatre during the performance of his play of "Irene." He was then 84, and died soon after. This was found among the effects of the late Madam Bonaparte, and was presented to her in Paris. The verse is as follows, in French:

I very well know what I want,
But I do not know what may become of me.
I am sick. I suffer from my head to my feet.
There is nothing left of me but my heart,
And that is worth nothing at all.

1035 CATALOGUE, of a Collection of Autographs, in the possession of Robert Gilmor, of Baltimore, 1832, 8vo, 52 pages. Mr. Gilmor was one of the early Autograph Collectors of this country. He had this catalogue printed for his own gratification. On the first leaf he has written explanations signed R. G. Additions occur throughout the catalogue in his writing. Being a man of very peculiar notions, I believe that this one, used for his own purpose, is the only one ever printed. I will not say this positively, but am very much inclined to think so.
